GRIEF OVER PARKING

CALLOUS council chiefs have refused to cancel a £25 parking ticket slapped on a grieving woman's car windscreen while she was in hospital holding her dying grandfather's hand.

Amanda McFarlane (35), from Challinor, Harlow, said she was 10 minutes late in renewing her three-hour parking ticket at the Wych Elm car park of the Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Her grandfather (79), from Epping, was about to be pumped full of morphine to ease the pain of the stomach cancer he was diagnosed with five days previously.

Tearful Mrs McFarlane told the Star: "In those precious minutes before the drugs sent my grandfather

By DAVID O'NEILL
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

into semi-consciousness, I had the opportunity to talk to him, comfort him and most importantly, hold his hand."

She was at his bedside with her mother and step-grandmother and had been there for the better part of two days, going home for just two hours in the evenings.

"They did not want us leaving, we did not want to leave and I was not even thinking about parking," she added.

"For 10 minutes in two days of parking, I slipped up."

She wrote a letter to the council two days later, asking them to let her off due to the circumstances – but they refused.

She said: "They did not mention once in their reply to say 'We are sorry to hear about your grandfather' or 'We understand the circumstances'."

"I just got a bog-standard letter, saying it was not grounds for an appeal."

She called for the council to give her £25 fine to Cancer Research or Saint Clare Hospice, in Hastingwood Road.

She said: "If they have any decency at all, they should do that."

Cllr Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment & community committee, said: "This case is currently on hold."

"The council would like to offer their sympathy for Mrs McFarlane's recent bereavement."

Meet all the winners of Superkids 2009!

Michael Biggs

PARENTS from Harlow were over-the-moon to hear that their children had won the Star's Superkids competition.

Cute Michael Biggs, who is just six months old and weighed 7lb 2oz when he was born, came top of his class for the zero to nine months old category.

Mum Hazel Stockbridge (25), of Little Grove Field, Harlow, said: "I am very, very, very proud of him. He's gorgeous."

"He's just started sitting up and getting into food. He loves bananas."

"He loves being thrown up in the air and his favourite cartoon is Tolli. He laughs every time it comes on."

Mother Tracy McGlinchey (36), of

Zak Kyazze

Arkwrights, Harlow, was very proud to hear her son Alfie Stevens (now 3) had won the competition for 19-to-36-month old babies.

She said: "He's got the sort of personality that just wins people over. He's very talkative and very happy."

Retired pensioner Ian Murray (65), of Millersdale, Harlow, laughed with joy when he heard step-granddaughter Jazmin Shuter, who turns five today (November 26), had won in her category for three-to-five year olds.

He said: "That's fantastic. That's absolutely wonderful."

Mother Leila Shonibane (25) of Hook Field, Harlow, added: "I am very proud. She's my little princess."

One-year-old Zak Kyazze came top of the 10-to-18-months category.

Mother Holly Ridge (23), of Mark Hall Moors, Harlow, said: "Even if he hadn't won, we would be very proud of him."

She said Zak loves dancing and the flashing lights on big road vehicles.

He is booked in to start at the Little Stars Pre-School, in The Gowers, Harlow, next March.

Cab driver is banned for 18 months

A CAB driver in Harlow was fined £1,100 and banned from driving after admitting more than 20 offences of working without a proper licence or insurance.

Private hire driver Abdul Aziz (25) was prosecuted by Harlow Council after he failed to renew his licence and have valid insurance while carrying passengers.

Aziz pleaded guilty at Harlow Magistrates' Court to 11 accounts of driving a private hire vehicle without the relevant licence and 11 accounts of driving it without valid insurance on November 10.

He was fined £50 on each of 22 driving offences and was ordered to pay £300 towards Harlow Council costs.

Some 66 points were also added to the three points already on his licence and he was given an 18-month driving ban.

Councillor Nick Churchill, chairman of the council's licensing committee, said: "Harlow Council takes its responsibilities very seriously in respect of making sure that the public are not going to be put at risk when using a private hire or hackney carriage vehicle that it has licensed."

"It is a fundamental requirement that the licensed vehicle is insured and the council will always instigate enforcement action in cases where valid insurance is not in place."

Council making its own waste paper!

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

COUNCIL officers were accused of wasting money and paper this week after sending residents multiple letters explaining Harlow's new refuse collection scheme.

Kenneth Smith (73), of Churchfields, has received three identical letters dated November 13, 16 and 19 informing him of the new waste and recycling collections.

And he said many of his neighbours had also received similar letters.

"I've now received three identical letters costing, say, 25p each," he said.

"Most of my neighbours I've spoken to have also received the letters. If they've sent them to the whole area then they could've wasted potential hundreds of pounds.

"I'm not too bothered about wheelee bins but what I don't understand is why they throw money away like this."

Bridget McAlpine, of Vicarage Wood, said she also had received identical letters.

"The council's efforts to improve recycling in the town are to be applauded, but I wonder if it is going about it the right way," she said.

"I have now received a total of three letters, two of which have, naturally, gone straight in to my soon-to-be defunct paper recycling bin."

Meanwhile, June Coyne's green waste bin was taken by refuse collectors after she placed it inside her wheelee bin to stop it blowing away in high winds last week.

The resident, of Waterhouse Moor, had lost her waste bin twice that week and thought the extra weight would stop the wind taking it.

"I didn't get it out of the bin before the collectors came - that was my fault," she said. "But it just shows they don't properly check what is inside the bins when they collect the bins."

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said the duplicated letters were as a result of "human error".

"Letters on the roll-out of the new system have been going out to properties since the end of September," he said.

"Unfortunately, last week, some areas were sent duplicate letters by mistake due to human error.

"As soon as the problem was discovered, it was rectified. We apologise to residents for any inconvenience this caused."

He said that recycling bins were checked by crews before emptying "as the load could be rejected by processing facilities if they contain the wrong items".

But he said: "Crews would only check the non-recyclable waste bins if there was concern that they contained prohibited waste."

MEMBERS of Harlow Labour Party gathered outside the Civic Centre on Tuesday to protest against a party being held by the council to celebrate the "successful" implementation of the authority's new, much-maligned waste collection system. As Conservative councillors and civil servants tucked into a free buffet and enjoyed a complimentary glass of wine inside, the protesters braved the cold night to make their feelings on the £300 'jolly' - which was boycotted by Labour and Liberal Democrat councillors - clear.

Air cadets hit great heights

IT has been a busy time for the youngsters of Harlow's Air Cadet squadron.

Flight Sergeant Chris Cholerton (18), Sergeant Chris Pankhurst (17) – pictured above – and Sergeant Maria Lynch (16) have become the first recipients of the cadet communicators badge in the unit's 52-year history.

All three spent months training in various aspects of radio operations including the use of Morse code, VHF and HF radio. They also conducted exercises in setting up a station, erecting aerials and controlling radio networks and took part in weekend camps at Folkstone and week-long detachments to the Royal International Air Tattoo at RAF Fairford.

All achieved high grades in the final written exam, while Maria obtained a distinction. She was one of just 30 candidates nationwide to be selected to join Welbeck Defence Sixth Form College in Loughborough.

Maria is working towards a career in the Royal Air Force's engineering branch.

Meanwhile, Corporals John

Cooper (17) and Christopher Pankhurst (17) have been promoted to the rank of sergeant. And keeping it in the family, their younger brothers – Andrew Cooper (16) and Robert Pankhurst (15) – were promoted from cadet to corporal, along with Hannah King (16).

Three new cadets have also been enrolled during a ceremony at the squadron's base in Bush Fair. The cadets completed a period of basic training during which they learnt about the history of the Corps and the RAF, as well as life in the squadron.

They are now moving onto practical activities and exercises as well as learning about the principles of flight, propulsion and map reading. One of the new cadets, James Nugent, said: "It's just so different from anything we do at school and I'm really looking forward to my first flight in a glider and getting away to camp on an RAF station."

Flight Lieutenant John Divver said: "We are recruiting and expanding at the moment and the promotions give us a chance to develop the younger cadets."

Cancer charity to honour Little Stars

THE courage of children who have encountered cancer is to be recognised with an award backed by X-Factor winner Leona Lewis and sprint champion Usain Bolt.

Relatives and friends of young cancer patients from across the region are being urged to nominate them for a Little Star award by the charity Cancer Research UK.

Last year 38 children from across the south-east received a Little Star Award.

Olympic gold medal winner Bolt said: "I am so proud to be involved with Cancer Research UK's Little Star Awards."

"Each and every one of the children who is nominated for the award is special. Their bravery in the face of this disease deserves to be recognised. They are the true champions."

To nominate someone for a Little Star award, email littlestar@cancer.org.uk or visit www.cancerresearchuk.org/littlestar. The awards are open to young people under the age of 18 who have cancer or who have been treated for the disease in the past five years.

Beating the bullies

A CONFERENCE for teachers and young people has been held in Essex to address the growing threat of cyber bullying.

A recent survey for the Department of Children, Schools and Families revealed mobile phones and social networking sites are among the most common tools used by bullies.

The conference took place in Braintree and was attended by pupils and teachers from 24 schools across the county, including primary, secondary and special schools.

It was organised and run by members of the Young Essex Assembly's Beat Bullying group.

Councillor Stephen Castle, Essex County Council's cabinet member for education, said: "This conference will teach young people about the dangers of cyber bullying and give them the confidence and support they need to tackle it."

Dementia helpdesk

AN information desk run by the Harlow branch of The Alzheimer's Society will be available to shoppers visiting the Harvey Centre tomorrow (Friday).

The desk will be located under the clock by jeweller H. Samuel from 9.30am-2.30pm.

A branch spokesman said: "All are welcome to come and have a chat about all aspects of dementia, whether they are worried about themselves or others."

Candlelight service

A SPECIAL candle-lighting service will be held at a Harlow church on Sunday for those wanting to remember friends and relatives who have died.

The non-denominational Harlow Light Up a Life 2009 service will be held at St Andrew's Church in The Stow at 4pm. The short service will be followed by tea and mince pies.

Hospice fundraiser is a f-abba-ulous success

IT was Money Money Money all the way at a 1970s themed dance and buffet which raised around £2,000 for St Clare Hospice. Flares and platform shoes were the order of the day as more than 100 revellers dressed in '70s-themed fashions for a night of live music, karaoke and food at the Great Parndon Community Association.

The event, organised by the Harlow Friends of St Clare Hospice, also featured a raffle which raised more than £300.

Friends' secretary Sandra Dwan said: "It was a great turnout because the times are really tough at the moment.

"The karaoke was a first for us and I wasn't sure how it was going to go down but half way through we had to tell people to stop. It was so popular!"

The money will help towards the running costs of the Hastingwood hospice which provides specialist care for people living with life-limiting illnesses in West Essex and East Herts.

Serenading Santas sing at station

WITH little more than a week until the fundraising Santa Run, organisers were joined by radio station Ten17 spreading the festive cheer among commuters at Harlow Town rail station.

The 4km run in aid of St Clare Hospice is taking place in Harlow Town Park on Sunday December 6 and the team were encouraging more people to sign up.

Giles Wright, communications manager for St Clare, was among those dressed as Santa last Thursday morning. He said: "To help get them ready for the day ahead we've been singing Christmas classics through the megaphone and persuading them to sign up and join us for the Santa Run which is only a matter of days away now."

"We want as many people as possible to join and help us have some fun and raise much-needed funds."

The first 500 adults that sign up for the run will get a free Santa Suit and the first 100 kids will get a free Santa hat.

Places are going so sign up today online at www.stclarehospice.org.uk or request an application form by calling the Fundraising team on (01279) 773 750.

Registration is £15 adults (16 yrs and above), £5 for children.

'Space flower' leads to shops

A MONTH of fun and festivity has been launched to get town centre shoppers in the mood for Christmas.

The Town Centre Partnership in Harlow erected a giant kaleidoscopic projector called a 'space flower' to entice shoppers towards the town centre for late night shopping.

Town centre events will include a magician with a live rabbit, carol-singing children from Burnt Mill School and St Albans School next Thursday, and The Concert Band performances outside The Harvey Centre on Saturday.

Funding finalised for £9.3m campus

A MULTI-MILLION pound funding package for a new university campus in Harlow was finalised this week.

Work will start on the new £9.3m Anglia Ruskin University campus on Velizy Avenue next summer, with students likely to begin enrolling in 2011.

The 2,400 sq m building on the Harlow College site will be three storeys high, have a 96-seat lecture theatre and state-of-the-art teaching and learning facilities.

Initially, it will provide a new space to expand the college's Centre of Journalism, as well as courses in business, IT, health and education.

Eventually, the new university centre will offer a wide range of higher education provision, meeting local students' needs.

It will also provide facilities for use by local businesses and the community, including an 'iLab' IT facility and conference and meeting rooms.

Some £3.8million was contributed to the scheme by the East of England Development Agency, while the Harlow-Standed Growth Area Partnership, led by Harlow Council, paid a further £500,000.

This has been added to the £5million funding already announced by the Higher Education Funding Council for England.

It is hoped this increase will boost participation in Higher Education in the town and the economy.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell said: "Establishing a university presence in Harlow is more than just about creating a building."

"Anglia Ruskin having a physical presence on Harlow College's site and students having the opportunity to continue their study here in the town will be a key driver in developing skills relevant to the local economy and raising aspirations."

Alison Webster, executive director of enterprise and skills at EEDA, said: "These types of developments provide a focus for innovation and aspiration which translate into a direct rise in skills levels and real improvements in the local economy."

"Harlow, traditionally, has a very low rate of participation in higher education and this can affect the town's ability to attract high value business."

Cllr Andrew Johnson, leader of Harlow Council, said the new campus would also attract new businesses.

"This is excellent news for Harlow," he said. "The development of a university campus in our town, which we have long called for, is a huge boost for providing opportunities for local people."

"First-class higher education facilities are a must in developing Harlow as a place to live, work or visit."

UKIP name former Tory as candidate

A FORMER Tory who lives in Southend has been chosen by the UK Independence Party to fight the marginal Harlow seat in next year's general election.

Self-styled 'man of the people' John Croft was selected by UKIP's Harlow members as their prospective parliamentary candidate after setting out his strategy for electoral victory in a speech.

He stood as the Conservative parliamentary candidate in Southend in 2005 and has served on three different councils as a Tory councillor.

Can you solve the mystery of school photo?

THIS week we are asking Nostalgia readers to solve a mystery. We need the answer to five simple questions – who, what, why, when and where?

This picture was brought into our office by a reader who could tell us very little about it other than it was taken at the start of building work on Katherines School

We know that headmaster Mr Gledde is standing with the residents as the first peg is hammered into the ground at Brookside.

Hopefully it will stir memories with readers who will be able to fill in the gaps and provide the full picture.

If you can help, contact the Nostalgia desk on (01279) 400577, write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email to daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

With a bit of luck, we will return to this photograph in a week or two with a more comprehensive story to tell.

Church's magnificent mosaic

A NEW book was published this year about an artist who created a large mural adorning a Harlow town centre church.

Painter John Piper's magnificent image towers over the congregation at St Paul's Church in College Square.

The book is a 600-page tome by Frances Spalding charting the life of the artist and his second wife, Myfanwy.

The mural – which is actually a mosaic – is at the east end of the building and depicts Christ with two disciples at Emmaus.

St Paul's was designed by Humphrys & Hurst and consecrated in 1959. It is made of yellow brick and its spire is covered in copper.

The tower contains six bells brought from the church of Holy Trinity, Barking Road, West Ham.

This picture of the mural was lent to the Star by regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill.

● John Piper, Myfanwy Piper: Lives in Art is published by Oxford University Press and costs £25. It is available at www.thecnj.co.uk.

From the Star 25 years ago

OVER THE MOON

A scientific project by four Old Harlow schoolgirls could be on a US space shuttle flight to the moon in 1986. The girls at St Nicholas' School are finalists in a nationwide contest after devising an experiment to test the effects of magnetism in space.

AIRPORT REBEL

Harlow's Conservative MP Jerry Hayes voted against the Government to stop the expansion of Stansted Airport by the "back door". Despite the rebellion, legislation allowing the number of flights over Heathrow to be limited and forcing extra traffic to Stansted was approved.

A GIFT TO JOAN

Representatives of the Memorial University of Newfoundland flew to Britain to make a presentation to retiring university campus trust secretary Joan Lloyd at St John's House, Old Harlow. Trust co-founder Mrs Lloyd received a Newfoundland English dictionary.

Cannabis factory owner is jailed

A MAN caught growing £45,000-worth of cannabis in his Harlow home has been jailed for three years.

Atesh Kaya was arrested after police used thermal imaging equipment from a helicopter to detect the "cannabis factory" inside the Blackbush Springs house, Chelmsford Crown Court heard.

The neighbour of the 41-year-old Turkish man had become suspicious about extra heat around the area of their stairs.

When police raided the premises, they found evidence of 545 plants grown between January and November last year, the court was told last Wednesday.

He had set up hydroponics equipment and had also illegally abstracted electricity worth £6,595.29 to operate the growing equipment.

He had started the operation while living in Ellington House, Southwold Road, Clapton, east London but had since moved to the Harlow property.

Kaya admitted producing 545 cannabis plants, abstracting electricity and possessing 81 grams of cannabis resin worth £140.

Rebecca Dix, prosecuting, said a neighbour had tipped off the police in July last year and police later raided property seizing equipment.

"He arrived, was arrested and admitted they were his plants being grown for a commercial purpose," she said.

Mitigating, James Howard said the venture was a "DIY job" and that Kaya "didn't even know where to go to sell" the plants.

He had been an interpreter working in courts and hospitals earning £3,000-a-month in the North East before losing his licence in 2004.

His finances went on a "downward spiral", becoming "addicted to cannabis" and deciding to grow his own.

"It was a foolish escapade," said Mr Howard. "He didn't know what he was doing."

"He used to cultivate vegetables and tomatoes and looked on the internet and in books. It was a DIY job."

He grew more than usual because of his lack of expertise and so some plants were bound to fail.

Mr Howard claimed the electricity supply was not hooked up until July.

Sentencing, Recorder Simon Spence QC said: "You must recognise that cannabis and production of it is illegal – whatever the perception and the reclassification – and it is not a harmless drug."

"Many people start off on cannabis before going onto hard drugs – cannabis growers can expect little sympathy from the courts."

"You established and ran what turned out to be a commercial cannabis factory."

Four escape burning house

FOUR men had a lucky escape from a blazing house in Harlow, including one who jumped from a bedroom window.

Firefighters were called to the house in Moorfield at 3.20am last Thursday.

Two fire engines from Harlow were sent to the scene and crews used breathing apparatus and two hose reels to extinguish the fire within 45 minutes.

Three men suffered from smoke inhalation.

Ambulance services said one man was treated for a leg injury and taken to the town's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Neighbour John Scarff,

who was woken by shouts, said: "It was lucky one of the lads had not gone to bed and went around banging on doors getting the rest of them out."

Station Officer Tony Galloway said: "The cause of the fire is unknown at this stage and an investigation will be carried out."

Girl hit by ambo car

A SCHOOLGIRL required hospital treatment after being knocked over by an ambulance car in Harlow which was responding to an emergency.

The rapid response vehicle was travelling along First Avenue with blue lights flashing when the 13-year-old was hurt at 3.10pm last Wednesday.

The girl was treated for a leg injury and taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

A spokeswoman for the East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust said the incident would be investigated.

"Ambulance crews treated a 13-year-old girl for a leg injury which was not believed to be serious," she said.

"[But] any incident such as this is thoroughly investigated by the Trust and we co-operated fully with the police on the matter."

A police spokeswoman later confirmed that they would not be investigating the incident.

MUSIC SHOP NOW OPEN IN SAWBRIDGEWORTH

An exciting new shop has opened its doors for business in London Road, Sawbridgeworth.

CREATIVE MUSIC is the brainchild of local businessman Gary Halliday and musician Ben Evans, who discovered a niche in the market for a specialised music shop.

The idea came to Gary and Ben when Gary's two musical sons Ben (17) an up-and-coming guitarist with well-known local group Anything in Mind, and Jack (14) a drummer, were looking for specialised musical tuition, guitar and drum music and replacement "spares" for their instruments.

Ben Evans, who has been teaching locally for over 20 years said, "We saw a gap in the market which we thought needed filling".

On the ground floor of the shop there is an impressive display of Fender guitars, starter drum kits, kits for the more advanced drummer, plus sheet music and a wide range of accessories.

Upstairs, two rooms have been converted into studios, where talented musicians are tutored by highly-qualified music teachers, including Ben Evans (guitar), Hazel Gostling (drums) and Andy Haring (keyboards).

Also in the Creative team, a guitar technician carries out full set-up facilities, and specialist repairs on all types of guitars.

Music lessons are realistically priced at £11 (guitar), £14.50 (drums) and £16.50 (keyboards).

Taster lessons, starting at 4pm, can be booked between now and Christmas and a new term begins in January, running in conjunction with School terms.

SCHOOLS, nurseries and businesses dug deep on Friday to raise cash for annual charity TV fundraiser Children in Need.

Pupils at Paringdon Junior School dressed up as their favourite storybook characters or as Pudsey Bears to help raise money.

Each class at the school on Paringdon Road had their own fundraising events including, to many teachers' pleasure, sponsored silences.

One class even showed their cheeky side after persuading headteacher Rosemary Pepper to take part in a role-reversal and dress up as a pupil.

Michelle Phipps, admin officer, said: "The children loved the day, it was brilliant."

"We have so far raised £268, but we are still waiting for some more money to come in."

Leapfrog Nursery, Harlow Business Park, included their teddy bears in a week-long series of fun events to raise cash.

Toddlers completed a sponsored walk around the garden with parents cheering them on as well as selling delicious cakes and biscuits to raise a staggering £445.

On Friday, youngsters had the opportunity to dress up and bring their favourite teddies along for a special teddy bears picnic.

Vicki Clift, catering manager, said: "I am really proud of the children they all loved doing it and did really well."

"We usually do a sponsored walk around Harlow Business Park but the rain kept putting us off."

It was teddy bear galore when Church Langley Pre-School, Church Langley Way, brought their favourite furry toys to join in a teddy bears picnic.

Children got their hands messy and got stuck in decorating biscuits and made tasty Pudsey Bear cookies.

Manager Michelle Wollaston said: "The children loved it and we are quite pleased that we managed to raise £70."

The solicitors at Attwaters, in West Square, took the term "dress down Friday" literally when they turned up for work in their pyjamas complete with teddy bear friends, raising an impressive £600.

Aldi store delays 'a threat to Stow'

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TRADER is calling for building work to start on the new Aldi supermarket at The Stow to regenerate the ailing shopping precinct.

The businessman, who did not want to be named, said he was existing on a month-by-month basis and the area was crying out for new investment if it is to survive.

"The Stow is in dire need of investment – there just aren't people coming through anymore," he said. "I want Aldi. I want regeneration for The Stow and I think it is criminal that it is being allowed to die."

Harlow Council granted planning permission for the budget food chain to build a supermarket, along with 14 new homes and parking, on the former Charvills car showroom site in February.

But the permission was subject to Section 106 agreements which are payments made by the developer to improve infrastructure in the area.

Since then, the site has remained undeveloped.

The businessman has contacted Aldi urging them to develop the site, but said the company blamed the council for the delays.

"Aldi said they were very keen on moving into the area – and that they were pressing the council on a weekly basis," he said.

Over the past few months, there have been a number of closures at The Stow including the pet shop, balloon shop and an estate agent.

Off-licence Thresher is under threat after its parent company went into administration last month, while plumbing shop WPA King is moving to a site in Bush Fair, where it has its own parking.

A spokesman for Aldi said details of negotiations with the council were confidential but added: "We are committed to The Stow site and the store will be open in due course."

WHAT'S IN STORE: Top, the former Charvills site at The Stow and, above, a drawing of the proposed Aldi supermarket

FISHPOOLS
A WORLD OF FURNISHING IDEAS

ST NICHOLAS PRIMARY:

Pupils celebrated the season of goodwill by contributing a total of 180 boxes for charity project Operation Christmas Child. Youngsters had the opportunity to wrap, pack and send a shoebox overseas as a gift for children in disadvantaged situations in Africa, eastern Europe and central Asia. Children filled the boxes with gifts ranging from toothpaste and soap to gloves and scarves, and contributed £2.50 to cover transport costs.

A school spokeswoman said: "The children love doing it. It's a great idea and we're proud to be able to send so many boxes."

The school has been taking part for several years and has been delighted with the pupils' response.

(photo: HAR0611776)

ST JAMES PRIMARY: Surprises galore were in store for caretaker William McDermott when staff and pupils celebrated his 30 years of work at the school.

Staff enticed him into the school hall for a surprise assembly by pretending there had been an accident.

"We wanted to surprise him as he thought none of us had remembered!" said a spokeswoman. "He's known as Barnacle Bill and the boat is a symbol of the school's, so he was presented with a Barnacle Bill cake and soft toy, plus book vouchers."

Mr McDermott was then treated to an all-day breakfast and presented with 30 gifts based on a cleaning theme, including a broom, bucket and mini Henry Hoover.

Mr McDermott's wife and two children, who are former pupils of the school, were invited to the celebration.

"We wanted to thank him for all his hard work," said the spokeswoman. "He was very overcome and surprised."

(photo: HAR0610515)

BURNT MILL: Breaking down racist attitudes was the subject of a performance by pupils in collaboration with Phoenix Theatre Company and Makin Steps Dance School.

Who Do We Think We Are? was performed at The Playhouse.

It was the first time the three groups have worked together on what turned out to be a very topical, thought-provoking and powerful show.

The play, which included dance, drama and music, was written by John Cresswell and tackles issues of racism and the British National Party. Young performers expressed what society could become if racist attitudes of some and the rise of support for the BNP is not challenged and changed.

A school spokeswoman said: "It was visually spectacular, with excellent performances in dance, drama and music. The show was a great success."

"It also created valuable discussions from the performers and audience alike about the very strong and explicit subject material."

Waste of our money

SIR, I am writing to support Pauline Bruce's comments regarding the supply and use of the recently acquired wheelie bins.

I, too, have been supplied with these monstrosities to my residence. I, too, am in contact with the council regarding their unsuitability of storage at my property. The matter is ongoing.

I have been asked to take out well-established shrubs from my frontage to accommodate these unsightly and unnecessary bins. I refuse to dig up or rearrange my front garden just to suit a whim of the council.

I appreciate that we do need to recycle and that landfill prices are being hiked up but to issue us with these bins is completely absurd. I have always recycled and the old system worked well. I refuse to accept that these bins were introduced not only for recycling but also for the safety and health risks to the refuse collectors.

How much money did it cost Harlow Council to buy new refuse lorries to accommodate these bins, as well as the bins themselves? This alone was unnecessary and a waste of us taxpayers' money!

I won't go into all the reasons why these bins are unsuitable because it has all been said before but I will say that I think we should all band together and wheel our bins down to the council offices and leave them outside for their removal or disposal. I wonder how they will cope or react to seeing hundreds of wheelie bins outside their offices?

My case with the council is ongoing and I will not give up on not using them. In the meantime they will stay where the council put them, namely on the pavement.

Sandra St John
Fold Croft, Harlow

No party for us

SIR, I write in connection with your report about Harlow Council's wheelie bin celebration party (Star, November 12).

I refer in particular to the comments from Tony Hall, who said a lot of councillors and officers had worked very long hours, including postponing holidays, to make sure the rollout of the new refuse collection service went as smoothly as possible.

He is also quoted as saying: "Rather than a celebration, the invitation to the event makes it very clear that it's a simple appreciation for the effort that members, staff across the council and contractors have put in to develop the scheme . . ."

I work for a local manufacturing company that has had a difficult year caused by the current economic crisis.

We have worked very long hours, often to catch up with our work because we had to take a number of weeks unpaid leave. We had to postpone holidays or fit them in around work deadlines and requirements. Redundancy was another cost-saving measure.

Did we have a party? No. Were we thanked? No. Did we control costs? Yes. Did we keep our customers happy? Definitely.

Harlow Council should get its priorities right.

Name and address supplied - Editor

System is rotten

SIR, I was pleased to read that Tom Wise, the UKIP MEP, has been jailed for fiddling his expenses (Star, November 12).

It is clear the claims of the United Kingdom Independence Party to be the anti-expenses choice has been forged on the back of the whole rotten system that they purport to reject. Voters must recognise their spin for what it is.

I only hope that the example of Mr Wise will ensure that our representatives realise we will not take lightly their claims for suitcases and other luxuries that others have to struggle to buy.

This whole sorry saga underlines the need for change.

Ryan Kelly
Hatfield Broad Oak, Bishop's Stortford

The profits of doom

SIR, I have to agree with Tony Hadden

(Letters, November 12) that, in revealing the big picture of climate change, scale does indeed matter. But which particular scale(s) do we speak of?

The truth of the matter is that this island is at the top end of all the scales regarding the disastrous precipitation of global warming and climate change.

For instance, we are the birthplace of the industrial revolution, the factory system and the cradle of capitalism.

The governments of our nation have always been amongst the leading founder members of all the world's institutions promoting the unfettered growth of capital and trade in all its many guises.

We are the world's major financial centre, directing the investment of capital into those nations with the cheapest labour and the most lax of working conditions in pursuit purely of the profit motive.

This is the 'big picture' as I see it now.

Little we may be, but that will not prevent us from suffering the effects of climate change. The word missing from this paragraph is 'responsibility' and the phrase 'wishing to avoid'.

We all individually must demand our leaders now take responsibility and bring about the measures necessary to mitigate a human disaster.

Jim Rogers
Bishopstfield, Harlow

The lights brigade

SIR, On behalf of the Harlow Town Centre Partnership can I say how much we enjoyed the positive response from all the people who attended the switch-on of this year's Christmas lights (Star, November 19).

We hope they continue to enjoy shopping in Harlow in the weeks leading up to Christmas and to take advantage of the five free nights of parking for Thursday late night shopping. The Town Centre Partnership can only put on the event and erect the lights themselves through the generous support of many small businesses in the town centre, major sponsors such as GSK and Stockland UK, Yates and Harlow Council.

We'd like to take this opportunity to thank them for supporting an annual event which has proved so popular for residents and visitors alike.

Richard Dennerly
Town Centre Development Manager
Harlow Town Centre Partnership

More road chaos

SIR, We all know we have in Harlow the best roads in the country because Essex County Council tells us so. You have to have a good laugh sometimes.

After the chaos of the hold-ups on the A14 along Templefields and the roadworks along First Avenue that will finish sometime during the next ice age, we now have new works on the A14/M11 junction for the next 15 months.

However laudable this project might be, must it take 15 months?

Fifty years ago the M1 from London to Birmingham was completed. Guess how long this major undertaking took. Yes, that's right, just over 15 months.

Do the Tories at County Hall care about Harlow or are we seen as some backwater?

Hospital thanks

SIR, I would like to say a huge thank you to all the staff in the intensive care unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital for saving my life through their outstanding support and care.

Without them I would not be here today writing this letter or holding my wonderful baby in my arms.

My thanks also go to the high dependency unit and staff on Saunders Ward for their constant attention and kindness which fuelled my recovery.

Finally, the special care baby unit gave my son Frankie the best start in life he could ever have received.

I thank them and everyone from the bottom of my heart.

No bin response

SIR, I have been interested to read all the letters in the Star complaining about wheelie bins.

I do agree that they are unnecessary and an eyesore.

When I had a letter published in your paper some weeks ago (Letters, October 21) stating that a friend in Much Hadham had a choice (bins or no bins); if her council (East Herts) can do it, why not ours?

I had no response at all, even Councillor Joel Charles, who said that he'd look into it, has not given a satisfactory explanation that I can recall.

Harlow has really been made to look horrible.

They, the bins, have really spoilt the special look that Harlow had.

Former leader visits charities

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FORMER Conservative leader visited Harlow on Friday to check out the work of two local charities.

Iain Duncan Smith dropped by to see Raktrain and the Canal Boat Project with prospective Harlow Tory MP Robert Halfon.

Raktrain helps young people learn skills in key subjects such as Maths and English and also offers them mentoring and life skills.

The Canal Boat Project gives youngsters with disabilities the chance to learn to control and ride in canal boats.

Mr Duncan Smith was also the guest speaker at the Harlow Conservative Ladies Committee annual Churchillian Dinner – at the Park Inn in Southern Way.

After being ousted as Tory leader in 2003, Mr Duncan Smith has gone to set up and chair the Centre for Social Justice, an organisation that builds alliances with community groups that change lives.

"It was wonderful to be able to see first hand the marvellous work being undertaken at Raktrain and at the Canal Boat Project," said Mr Duncan Smith.

"The efforts of everyone involved is clearly having a lasting impact on the many people who are involved with both organisations."

Mr Halfon added: "Raktrain does an enormous amount of good work which benefits young people in the Harlow area and further afield while the Canal Boat Project offers youngsters – many whom face enormous difficulties in their daily lives – opportunities for some great challenges and experiences.

"I very much wanted Iain Duncan Smith to see it at first hand the great work which is being undertaken by both these organisations."

Mental health advice service set to launch

A PROGRAMME to reach out to residents suffering from mental illnesses and needing help launches tomorrow (Friday).

West Essex Black and Minority Ethnic Community Development Service is holding a consultation event to discuss the most effective ways of tackling mental illness.

The event is designed to help rid the social stigma attached to mental health problems that leave many people afraid to ask for help.

The event will take place at the Chinese Community Centre in Lower Meadow, Commons Road, at 10am.

A service to remember

A SPECIAL candle-lighting service will be held at a Harlow church on Sunday to remember those close who have died.

The non-denominational service Harlow Light Up a Life 2009 will be held at St Andrew's Church in The Stow at 4pm, followed by tea and mince pies.

Alive: the army dog that survived a desert ordeal

A BOMB-sniffing dog working for the Australian army has been found alive and well after disappearing in action more than a year ago.

Sabi, a four-year-old black retriever who has been trained to detect explosives, went missing when her unit was ambushed while on patrol in Afghanistan.

Nine soldiers were injured during the attack, including the plucky pooch's trainer.

Despite months of searching for her, Sabi could not be found and she was officially declared 'missing in action' by the army.

But last week an American soldier spotted Sabi close to an isolated outpost. Officials said he knew the Australians had lost a dog and it matched her description so he called her towards him.

"I took the dog and gave it some commands and it understood," he said.

It is not known what happened to Sabi during the 14 months she spent roaming the Afghan desert but she appeared to be in good health.

She was taken back to the Australian base and then reunited with the army's working dogs unit where she was visited by the Australian prime minister.

It was simply too much for Dave

Homes burgled

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POLICE have issued a warning to residents following three burglaries in 24 hours in Harlow and Epping by men posing as water board workers.

Between 4pm and 4.30pm last Wednesday, two men claiming to be from the water board stole a 'four-figure sum of cash' from a woman's handbag at her home.

The thieves knocked at the front door of a house in Barn Mead, Harlow, asking the occupant to check the water pressure.

But after the men had left, the occupant discovered the money was missing.

The suspects are described as white men aged 20 to 30. One was described as of broad build with fair brown hair, wearing dark clothing and 5ft 6in tall.

The second man was slim with a round face and approximately 5ft 4in tall.

A second burglary saw a two-figure sum of cash being taken from a home in Little Pynchons, Harlow, between 5pm to 5.30pm.

After being invited in, a man posing as a water board worker went upstairs, claiming he needed to do further checks while the occupant ran the water downstairs.

The man was described as white, in his 40s and around 5ft 4in tall. He was wearing a grey T-shirt and trousers and was clean-shaven with dark hair.

A third burglary occurred at 6pm, where another fake water board employee tricked an elderly woman into letting him into her home in Chapel Road, Epping.

Left alone in the kitchen area for about 10 minutes, he took a three-figure sum of money.

He is described as white, aged 21 to 22, of slim build and was wearing a dark, zipped jacket, dark trousers and a hat.

A police spokeswoman said the burglaries "may be connected", but that they are not linking them at this stage.

Police spokeswoman Denise Harvey issued the following advice to residents: "During the darker months, leave a light on a timer switch so it looks like the house is occupied."

"Accessible windows and doors should be fully secured at all times."

"If you have a uPVC front door, make sure you throw the handle upwards and secure the deadbolts in place by locking with a key."

"When retiring for the night, place any vehicle keys in a safe, but not obvious place."

Players' fright night is fun for kids of all ages

what's on at The Square

FRIDAY: Teen-inspired observation pop will be on the menu when blonde bombshell Daisy Coburn hits The Square under the name of Daisy Dares You. Her one-girl show is Little Boots-ish in style but clever and soulful enough to keep your noggin thinkin' while your booty's shakin'.

SATURDAY: Cambridge-based quiff-ophants Jack Rabbit Slim will be non-stop double-stopping on their geetars to a rockabilly beat that could drive a Routemaster to Memphis. Expect twang, tattoos and rock 'n' roll for real men.

REVIEW

Wicked Woods Moot House Players, Moot House

"THAT was great." No finer accolade could have been given to Moot House Players' latest production than that given by an enthusiastic young critic from a local primary school who had just enjoyed a stunning show of dramatic fun and fright.

The amazing thing about the Players is how they can make so much happen in such a small space. All credit for the success of Wicked Woods must go to director Rosie Caswell.

An adaptation of two scary tales from Russian folklore by Paul Regeli, this was a play for children of all ages... including the adult ones!

Paul certainly knows how to make children and adults laugh. His script was brought to life by some brilliant costumes and masks created specially for the show.

The company was in typically fine form with Geoff Leeds, the storyteller, introducing some bravura performances.

If the audience did not believe in witches at the start of the night, then they certainly did when Baba-Yaga (Henrietta Branwell) was unleashed on them. The children in the audience were very much on the side of heroine Vasilisa (Kerry Rowland) and everyone laughed at the antics of the Wolves (Tony Edwards and Michael Caswell). The heady mixture of fun and fear was maintained in the second story by David Schacht and Dan Powell, who played convincing characters tracking down the mysterious Firebird gracefully portrayed by Jennifer Southwell.

The programme for Wicked Woods

proved an essential piece of equipment for one young member of the audience. Handing it on to an adult, he reassured her that if she got too scared she could hide behind it! This truly was a great night out for all the family, and further thrills and spills will be in the offing when MHP prepare for their early February adaptation of the Dickens classic A Christmas Carol.

Star pals join Kevin for academy launch

IT was All Rise for the opening of celebrity dance coach Kevin Adams' performing arts academy in Harlow when Blue's Antony Costa and former EastEnders star Hannah Waterman turned up for the launch. Antony turned up to support his friend, but then had to hot-foot it back to London.

"He was judging a show in London, said Kevin, who has known the singer for six years. "He could've said he couldn't do it, but he didn't. He drove up from the city and then back again afterwards, which was really nice."

Kevin, who shot to stardom after appearing in BBC's Fame Academy, has also been personal trainer to Ms Waterman, who played Ian Beale's third wife, Laura Dunn, in the BBC1 soap. She was so grateful to Kevin for his help getting her in shape for a West End role that she jumped at the chance to attend the opening of the school. There are still a few spaces available at the academy. Anyone wanting to sign up must first pre-register at the website at www.kevinadamsacademy.com or call 07745 623574. (s)

what's on at The Playhouse

MUSIC: Some 16 of the world's most beautiful showgirls – who just happen to be men – will be on stage at The Playhouse tonight (Thursday) as The Lady Boys of Bangkok saunter into town. The heady concoction of colourful cabaret, song and acrobatics, including an Abba medley and Rod Stewart and Michael Jackson look-alikes, fills the glitzy routine for the company's 2009 Mile High Tour. The show has now been seen by more than a million paying punters in the UK since its debut at the Edinburgh Festival 11 years ago. The show begins at 7.30pm and tickets cost £18 (£16 concessions).

MUSIC: Lee 'Memphis' King was a finalist in BBC1's competition to find the world's greatest Elvis impersonator. As the UK's leading exponent of onstage 'Elvis-ery', he brings his One Night with Elvis show to The Playhouse tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday. For two lip-quivering nights, not only does the audience get genuine and fun renditions of The King's classics but with the help of an ever-changing wardrobe they will see several versions of Elvis from hip-swivelling early days to the later performances in Las Vegas. It's a show that's guaranteed to leave you all shook up. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £18.50.

MUSIC: With such classic hits as Sweets For My Sweet, Needles and Pins, Don't Throw Your Love Away and When You Walk In The Room, The Searchers' contribution to the UK music industry has been immense. With record sales well in excess of 40 million, their recent compilation album The Very Best of The Searchers saw them hit the charts once again and the band continue to tour the globe as much today as they have done throughout their fantastic five-decade career. Expect to hear all their famous hits, plus many of their original album recordings and well-known favourites when they take to The Playhouse stage on Wednesday. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £17 (£16 concessions).

LAW ABIDING CITIZEN

certificate 18 1h 48m

JUSTICE is blind – and by the end of F Gary Gray's gruesome thriller, it's also horribly burned, dismembered and disembowelled as a family man turns the tables on the lawmakers who let him down, with the help of his good friend Semtex.

The moral conundrum that underpins Kurt Wimmer's screenplay is constantly obscured by graphic violence and relentlessly sadistic revenge fantasies played out by the central character on the denizens of Philadelphia.

His corruption at the hands of an unfair justice system and subsequent quest for retribution are supposed to blur the lines between good and evil, but the protagonists aren't sketched in sufficient detail to carry the story's flimsy convictions.

Gerard Butler has evidently been freeze-framing The Silence Of The Lambs as inspiration for his performance as the family man turned vigilante.

He chews lifelessly on every clichéd line, while Jamie Foxx, as the crusading man of the law who must stop him, is just plain lifeless.

In a deeply unpleasant prologue, brilliant inventor Clyde Shelton (Gerard Butler) is at home, playing the doting father to his young daughter (Ksenia Hulayev), when two thugs break in, stab and restrain him and his wife (Brooke Mills) and go after the girl. Clyde loses the two people he cares most about in this sorry world then, to add insult to unbearable injury, glory-chasing lead prosecutor Nick Rice (Foxx) cuts a deal with one of the perpetrators, agreeing a reduced sentence in exchange for testimony against the accomplice.

"Some justice is better than no justice at all," he contends, caring not a jot about Clyde's suffering.

Ten years after the worst moment in his life, Clyde enacts his master plan to make Nick suffer just like he did, by attacking his colleagues Jonas Cantrell (Bruce McGill) and Sarah Lowell (Leslie Bibb) and the mayor (Viola Davis).

Clyde even involves Nick's wife Kelly

(Regina Hall) and daughter Denise (Emerald-Angel Young), so the prosecutor tries to reason with him.

"You think your wife and daughter would feel good about you killing in their name?" he asks.

"My wife and daughter can't feel anything," replies the widower coldly. "They're dead."

When more people die while Clyde is safely tucked away in prison, the prosecutor and his cop pal face the terrifying possibility that their prime suspect has an accomplice on the outside.

Law Abiding Citizen plays out largely as expected, with lashings of blood and gore to remind us that Clyde is a psychopath who doesn't think twice about gutting his cellmate to pass the time.

The hunt for the accomplice is a classic Scooby-Doo caper, replete with a ridiculous pay-off that is impossible to take seriously.

Scenes between Butler and Foxx lack tension as both actors go through the motions, content to let director Gray have his pyrotechnic-laden fun.

Less is more in low-budget horror

PARANORMAL ACTIVITY

certificate 15 1h 25m

HOW do you turn 15,000 dollars into 100 million dollars?

If you're enterprising Israeli-born filmmaker Oren Peli, you write and direct a low-budget supernatural horror movie, shoot it at your own house in your spare time and watch as that modest vision becomes a 21st-century Blair

Witch Project.

Paranormal Activity is a phenomenon, scaring the bejezus out of audiences with its deceptively simple narrative and grainy camerawork, captured by characters as they hunt for an evil spirit in their home.

Various cuts of the film have been screened at festivals around the world, but the version set to terrorise British cinemagoers is a genuinely creepy encounter with things that go bump in the night.

The writer-director cranks up the suspense gradually until we're almost holding our breath, anticipating the next episode of ghostly interference. Unlike the recent glut of torture porn thrillers, which slather the screen in blood and entrails, Peli's film exercises restraint to the heart-stopping finale. Less is more, and the suggestion of unseen evil in the house is far more unnerving than a blitzkrieg of expensive special-effects – what you can't see can kill you.

still showing

TWILIGHT SAGA - NEW MOON: The second installment of Stephanie Meyer's best-selling Twilight novels is a slushy teen romance with added bite, focusing on the doomed relationship between teenage misfit Bella Swan (Kristen Stewart) and dashing vampire Edward Cullen (Robert Pattinson).

HARRY BROWN: Screen legend Michael Caine gives a powerhouse performance as an ageing vigilante who swears revenge on a gang of sadistic thugs who stabbed his elderly friend to death in this gritty Brit thriller.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL: Computer-generated adaptation of the timeless feelgood Christmas tale by Charles Dickens. Jim Carrey provides the voice of miserly misanthrope Scrooge, who is forced to reassess his cruel ways following three ghostly visits from the spirits of Christmas past, present and future.

2012: Having previously destroyed all the major cities in an alien invasion (Independence Day) and plunged the globe back into the Ice Age (The Day After Tomorrow), director Roland Emmerich attempts to finish off the human race once and for all in this daft flurry of special effects and hackneyed storytelling loosely based on a Mayan prophecy.

HANNAH MONTANA - THE MOVIE: Pop princess Miley Cyrus searches for love in this rites of passage drama.

kids club

ALIENS IN THE ATTIC: A young family on vacation in the middle of nowhere encounter a clan of pint-sized alien invaders in the attic of their holiday home and must do all they can to prevent their unwelcome guests from destroying the world in this hilarious romp.

MONSTERS VS ALIENS: When a meteorite from outer space hits a young woman and transforms her into a giant monster, she is taken to a secret government compound where she joins a ragtag group of mutants tasked with defending the planet from an alien invasion.

Homes for all lifestyles

This modern, two-bedroom end-of-terrace house is on the popular Church Langley development.

This well-maintained property benefits from having a conservatory, refitted bathroom and a garage.

The property benefits from a downstairs WC, with an obscured double-glazed window to front, with radiator, low flush WC and a wall-mounted wash hand basin.

The lounge (13' 11" x 13' 8") has double-glazed doors to a good-size, double-glazed conservatory and has a handy understairs storage cupboard.

The modern, well-equipped kitchen has a range of wall and base units with worktops over and includes a fitted oven, hob and extractor fan. There is space for fridge-freezer and washing machine. Upstairs, the landing has doors to two bedrooms, bathroom and loft access.

Both bedrooms are small doubles and have double-glazed windows and radiator. Bedroom two has a fitted wardrobe.

The bathroom has a panel bath with shower attachment and curved screen, pedestal wash hand basin and WC.

The garden has a patio area, with the rest laid to lawn.

There is also a garage, with up-and-over door, and driveway.

A New Superhero For Church Langley

Sapphire Church Langley have landed!

new launch (not to be missed)
promotion

First 5 Homes To Be Sold Are Free!
& the next 10 are 1/2 price

Free
=
Free

0.7% thereafter

Due to the success of the Sapphire approach to selling homes in Harlow, we have decided to launch an office dedicated to Church Langley. At Sapphire we understand buyer behaviour and we know that buyers will tend to look online for properties as to looking in the high street, so rather than have expensive flashy premises; we invest our money in the marketing of your property online - that's what's most important.

Because our overheads are far lower than other high street estate agents, we can afford to offer lower commission fees. Once the promotional period is over properties can be sold for only 0.7%!

- No contracts to sign, No sole agency agreements, No tie ins.
- Only 0.7% to sell your property
- Unlimited marketing on Rightmove & other internet portals
- H.I.P.S. only £186 + VAT

Sapphire – The new hero for Church Langley, saving you both time & money!

Triumph of space and luxury

The Gran Turismo is a car for those contemplating a premium saloon but wanting an engaging drive, writes Iain Dooley

It's not a people carrier and it's not a regular executive saloon. It offers as much room as a luxury limousine but it's not going to be promoted as one. Not fitting a particular market sector is almost unknown for a BMW product – almost. The German firm's X6 SUV changed all that. Blending performance saloon and regular premium 4x4 attributes, it's found a niche for itself.

BMW hopes the same will happen to its latest left-field proposition, the 5 Series Gran Turismo.

The 5 GT is something of a departure for the normally straight-laced BMW. Visually it blends 7 and (potentially) forthcoming new 5 Series at the front, with a little X6 and, again, 7 Series at the rear. Far from broadcasting a mixed message, the overall look successfully illustrates the car's dual role.

BMW itself is keen to stress that the Gran Turismo is a car for those contemplating a premium saloon but wanting an engaging drive and more or a potential SUV buyer seeking the associated packaging attributes but not the over-tall stance and all-wheel drive.

FACTfile

BMW 530d GT Executive

from £43,710
on the road

ENGINE	3.0-litre turbo diesel unit developing 245bhp
TRANSMISSION	8-speed automatic transmission driving rear wheels
CO <sub>2</sub> EMISSIONS	173g/km
PERFORMANCE	0-62mph 6.9s/top speed 149mph
ECONOMY	43.5mpg

The premium market is dominated by businesslike saloon or imposing SUVs and, to its credit, the 5 GT is neither. It is spacious though, and pretty much equals the 7 Series for rear cabin space. You really can stretch out in the 5 GT, while headroom is more than adequate thanks to the car's generous sloping roofline.

Front seat occupants will feel like they're sitting in a 7 Series. The cabin design is the main reason; the fascia and instrumentation look awfully familiar, although this is no bad thing as it helps impart a premium ambience.

Don't think the 5GT is just a hatchback 7 Series because it's not. Where the big limousine is all about wafting about, a cushioned ride and convention, this car offers an experience closer to that of a regular 5 Series in the driving department. The bottom line is that the 5 GT is something that will make keen drivers smile. BMW's classic rear-drive layout has been retained, while the range of engines is predictably skewed towards the performance end of the scale. The firm's variable rate active steering can be selected, as can active ride components including a clever rear-wheel steer function, all with the job of making the car behave like a proper sporting BMW.

Engines play a big part, and BMW's initial choice of 242bhp 3.0-litre diesel plus 401bhp 4.4-litre twin turbo and 3.0-litre 302bhp single turbo petrol motors do much to reinforce the car's premium positioning. Predictably the former will form the bulk of sales in this neck of the woods. It's certainly powerful enough, and is more than quick enough in the real world.

With BMW making great strides with its Efficient Dynamics technology, the diesel motor emits a modest (for its size) 173g/km while 43.5mpg is the official fuel consumption figure. Clearly these are impressive numbers for a car of this size. Another impressive number is eight, the number of gears in the auto transmission.

This smooth gearbox plays its part perfectly, much like the rest of the 5 GT's mechanical bits. It also contributes towards the car's overall efficient and refined performance; being in the right gear at the right time minimises wasted energy.

And you won't be wasting any time trying to shoehorn stuff into the car's boot. The hatchback shape hints at better than average versatility, although you do have a choice like you do with Skoda's Superb. The 5 GT's 'boot' opens to reveal a conventional loading slot, while clicking a different button on the key fob or tailgate raises the hatch in its entirety.

If that's not enough, you can fold the rear seats forward for an increase in load space from an already perfectly acceptable 440 litres to a very useable 1,700 litres. Now you can see why it might be pitched as premium car for active people.

Just for good measure in a bid to maintain the car's luxury ambience, the rear cabin can be had in either a conventional three seat or more grown up two seat configuration. The latter includes a fixed central armrest and storage compartment and is part of the flagship Executive trim level - the former is the more flexible SE trim option.

Sometimes being neither one thing nor the other has its advantages. In the case of BMW's 5 Series Grand Turismo, it's very hard to pigeonhole a car that offers a curious blend of limo-like luxury and SUV space. If the former is just too conventional and the latter simply not your bag, the middle ground is often the best place to be and be seen.

Fully funded courses

Tell everyone there is such a thing as a free lunch!
We're working together

Fully funded courses, learn a skill for life, have a job for life
Ceramic Tiling, Painting & Decorating, Plastering

These courses are paid for by the government for you or someone you know so please call, we are here to help

If you are facing redundancy, have been made redundant, self-employed with no work, unemployed upto six months STC have fully funded courses in construction skills that not only teach you a trade but give you a complete working business as a selfemployed tradesman.

Absolutely no experience necessary and for men or women.

STC have created over 3000 businesses worldwide in the past 5 years and now with the government funding available you could be on that list. Its incredible to think but our courses are only 2 or 4 weeks long and in that time we not only teach you the core skill but also how to estimate and price work, market your business, deal with your customers and all this backed up with a full business start up programme.

Train yourself into employment now.

These programmes are open to retail customers too, we can and will change your life, call now for more information or to book a course. 0800 9020664

You Missed It !!!

6 weeks ago we advertised probably the BEST job ever.

The lucky candidates are now making in excess of £700+ pw OTE. We now need 5 more.
 If you have a car and phone, call for more info -

0800 840 1289

No experience necessary as full training can be provided.

Future Jobs Fund - getting young people back to work

Employ-Ability will co-ordinate the successful Future Jobs Fund bid led by Harlow District Council. 150 + young people (18-24) will be offered paid 6 month placements to get them back to work.

Employ-Ability is recruiting 1 f.t. employment adviser to work across West Essex to ensure the success of the placements and the progression of the young people.

If you have relevant experience and knowledge, give us a call for more information and a job pack.

The post is fixed term for 18 months (subject to funding) from Jan 2010. Salary range: £19,500 - £23,980 (dep. on exp. & quals.)

Monitoring Officer

£16,830 - £21,519 per annum

One year fixed term contract

In Essex our Early Years and Childcare team are required to implement effective monitoring procedures to measure our success in improving outcomes for children who access early years and childcare services, including Children's Centres.

We are looking for someone to join our monitoring team who has the aptitude to further improve these services. Do you enjoy evaluating financial information and feel you are proficient in writing reports?

Are you analytical and professional in data capture and in the protection of confidential information? Do you have experience in developing and managing databases? If so, then this role will offer you an interesting challenge in a complex diversified sector in which to use your skills. Ideally you should be able to work methodically, have good interpersonal skills and are used to working to deadlines.

If you would like to help us meet these challenges, we would really like to hear from you.

For an informal discussion please contact Claire Jackson, Acting Monitoring Team Leader on 01245 438530.

Apply online at: www.workingforessex.com quoting reference WE-EC06359.

Closing date: 10th December 2009.
 Interviews: 17th December 2009.

Essex County Council is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and vulnerable adults, and expects all employees and volunteers to share this commitment.

Hertford Regional College

Department of Construction, Engineering and Technology - Broxbourne
Workbased Learning Assessor – Electrical Ref: T0332
Salary: £22,453 to £27,220 pa (plus 0.5% CPD allowance)

The Department is looking to recruit a Workbased Learning Assessor across the vocational areas of electrical installation. With approximately 350 full-time students, 200 apprentices and 800 part-time/evening students, the department is a lead player in the 14-16 curriculum delivery and works in strong partnerships with local schools.

Within this role you will need to manage the practical elements of the relevant vocational area. This involves the planning and implementation of practical activities of groups, visiting employers and assessing learners. As well as this, you will need to aid the students in complying with health and safety regulations during work activities.

To be successful in this role you will need to be qualified in the relevant trade area, with a wide range of recent industrial experience. You must have an understanding of current regulations and modern operating procedures.

Department of Cross College Learning Support - Ware
Communication Support Worker (2 posts)
Ref T0341 – 15 hrs pw
Ref T0342 – 18 hrs pw
Salary: £18,737 to £20,466 pa (plus 0.5% CPD allowance) pro-rata
Term time only, 38 weeks per year

Communication Support Workers are required to provide sign language interpretation and general education support to severe and profoundly hearing-impaired students, to enable individuals to follow programmes of study within the college and to overcome any barriers to learning. This includes supporting students who have identified additional needs, whatever their programmes of study.

The successful candidates should have a specific professional qualification such as CACDP Stage II in British Sign Language and have experience of providing communicator support for deaf people.

Department of Inclusive Learning - Ware
Department Administrator Ref: T0331
Salary: £17,164 to £18,737 pa (plus 0.5% CPD allowance)

The Department of Inclusive Learning has a diverse provision of learners ranging from learners with mild, moderate and complex learning difficulties and disabilities, 14-16 year old learners with behaviour issues, to learners who are not in education, employment or training prior to joining the department. As an Administrator your primary role is to assist the Senior Departmental Administrator and the Head of Department in providing an efficient and effective administrative service.

You will require a high level of administrative skills with the ability to manage information efficiently and effectively, a high standard of word processing/computer literacy, including a working knowledge of Microsoft Office, spreadsheets and databases, invoicing process and undergo training to work closely with the Head of Department in inputting student timetables onto the college system.

Department of Creative Arts and Industries - Broxbourne
Music Technician Ref: T0335
Salary: £16,106 to £17,164 pa (plus 0.5% CPD allowance) pro-rata
Part time, 18 hours per week

The Department of Creative Arts and Industries is looking to employ a Music
Technician to support the staff and students on vocational Music programmes.

You will be based mainly in the recording studio, and rehearsal rooms, where you will assist staff in the recording of live music and the setting up and correct use of equipment. You will also be required to set up and act as sound engineer for termly music gigs.

Learning Resource Services - Ware
Learning Assistant Ref: T0339
Salary: £16,106 to £17,164 pa (plus 0.5% CPD allowance)

Based in the Central Learning Resource Centre you will be supporting the learning needs of the college staff and students as they use our network of resources.
This is an excellent opportunity for the postholder to utilise and develop their skills as the role involves the day to day running of the library, as well as supporting the learners and developing the service in line with expectations and needs.
The role also involves undertaking Library counter work, assisting with Library administrative duties and providing support in the Learning Centre to both students and staff.

Ideally you will have experience of Library and Learning Centre work, some knowledge of various IT software packages, hardware, and online information sources.

Hourly Paid Dyslexia Support Tutors Ref: T0347
Lecturer Hourly Rate: £16.77 to £21.03 (inc. holiday rate and dependant on subject area and individual salary assessment)

Are you passionate about teaching and learning? Do you hold a SpLD teaching qualification? Do you want to work for a dynamic, established Dyslexia Support Team within Learning Support Service? These are varied and interesting roles that will bring you into contact with a large cross section of the College community.
You will be offering 1:1 and small group support to learners on mainstream college courses with identified SpLDs.

Previous teaching experience in either the private or public sector and relevant qualifications are desirable but not essential. However, the willingness to study for a teaching qualification will be a requirement.

Department of Inclusive Learning - Ware and Broxbourne
Hourly Paid Student Support Assistants Ref: T0348
Hourly Rate: £10.37 (inc holiday rate)

We are looking to give people an opportunity to support a diverse range of students within the Department of Inclusive Learning. Would you find it rewarding to work with students with learning difficulties and or disabilities or pre-16 students who exhibit challenging behaviour?

You will need to have previous experience in supporting adults with learning difficulties and/or disabilities, as well as dealing with students or young people who may exhibit challenging behaviour. Understanding the importance of supporting young adults in an educational setting or similar situations and the ability to empathise with students who may not have had a positive experience is essential.

The successful applicants will be required to undertake a Criminal Records Bureau Check (CRB) and to provide proof of their right to work in the UK.

For an application form please contact the HR Department, Hertford Regional College, Ware Centre, Scotts Road, Herts, SG12 9JF. Tel 01992 411509,

Gas Safe Register

GAS Safe Register replaced the CORGI gas register in Great Britain and the Isle of Man on April 1, 2009.

There is only one gas safety register that you need to use. Look for the yellow Gas Safe Register triangle, not the orange CORGI registration badge.

Anyone carrying out work on gas must be registered with Gas Safe Register. If not, they are breaking the law and putting you and your family at risk. Only a Gas Safe Registered Engineer is legally allowed to install gas appliances, boilers, hobs, ovens or fires in your home or workplace.

You must only use a Gas Safe Registered Engineer for any type of gas work, including installation, maintenance and servicing.

What is Gas Safe Register?

Gas Safe Register exists to protect you, your family and your property from dangerous gas work. Incorrectly fitted, badly-repaired or poorly-maintained gas appliances are a major cause of lethal carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning, and can also lead to gas leaks and explosions.

To carry out work on gas installations and appliances safely and legally, engineers in Great Britain and the Isle of Man must be on the Gas Safe Register. We make sure the 120,000 engineers on the register are safe by inspecting the gas work they have carried out.

We are interested in the experiences you have had, when using gas engineers. You can report good or bad gas work to us using our 'nominate gas work for inspection' service.

Essex County Council*(Banks Lane, Theydon Mount) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close Banks Lane, Theydon Mount, in the District of Epping Forest, from its junction with Mount Road, to its southern junction with Tawney Common.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 30 November 2009 for 5 days, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while Balfour Beatty Utilities install a new water service connection. Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The alternative route will be via Epping Road, School Road, Toot Hill, Blake Hall Road, A414 Epping Road, High Road, B181 High Road, Epping Road, Coopersale Common, Houbbons Hill, Coopersale Street, Mount Road and vice versa.

The Order will come into effect on 30 November 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Southern Way, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close Southern Way, Harlow, from its junction with A414 Potter Street Bypass, east, for a distance of approximately 30 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 7 December 2009 for 2 weeks, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while drainage and statutory undertakers' ducts are installed as part of the construction of an additional carriageway and associated works on A414 Potter Street Bypass.

There may be further periods of closure to allow more efficient flow of traffic through the A414/Southern Way junction whilst temporary traffic lights are in operation. The dates of these additional closures will be advertised locally at the appropriate time.

The alternative route will be via A414 Potter Street Bypass, Potter Street, Southern Way and vice versa.

Access for pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure. Access for emergency service vehicles will be provided where possible.

The Order will come into effect on 7 December 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Ladies flattered by big win

HARLOW Ladies moved up to fourth place in the Essex Hockey League premier division with a 5-2 home victory over bottom side Brentwood II on Saturday.

Captain Emma Tweddle fired home from a perfect short-corner routine after only five minutes to give the hosts a great start.

But Brentwood levelled four minutes later when a stray pass in the last third of the pitch was pounced on by their centre-forward, who nimbly avoided the advancing Harlow keeper Linda Rowley and coolly slotted home.

Carolyn Rushton's effort was ruled out because of an infringement. Tweddle converted a controversial short corner with the final play of the half. Initially the umpire appeared not to have noticed the ball going between the posts for a valid goal, but intervention from both teams and the second umpire settled the matter.

Jess Green finished off a fine attack, but Brentwood immediately hit back from a short-corner routine to keep the game in the balance.

However, the home side were not to be denied and Gill Phipps pounced on a Tweddle through ball to put the game beyond doubt.

Rushton fired home in the dying minutes to provide a rather flattering scoreline.

HARLOW LADIES (squad): Rowley, Shearman, Slack, Tweddle, Figg, Douglas, Rushton, Esterhuysen, Ferdinando, Stanesby, Amos, Jess Green, Phipps.

Awsome foursome

A RETURN to winning ways was made by Harlow's first team when they defeated Royston II 4-1 at home in division four of the Herts Squash League.

Fifth string Rob Coghlan set the tone on Thursday with a 3-1 win.

Fourth string John Tennant lost 3-0, but third string Mike Symmons came back from 1-0 down to win 3-1.

Second string Dave Gear won 3-0, as did first string Ian Gould to complete a thumping win.

Harlow's second team won 3-2 at Potters Bar in division five.

Anstead: We can beat drop

The under-pressure Harlow Town boss said: "We have got to believe we can turn it around."

"It's a big gap. If we don't start picking up points this side of Christmas we'll have a mountain to climb."

"We have got to stay positive. Before January we need a certain number of wins to catch a couple of teams. I have never known a side hit the post so many times."

Neither keeper was seriously tested before Tilbury went ahead after 34 minutes on Tuesday.

A 25-yard free-kick from Joe Keith found the far left corner, giving Hawks keeper Ashley Harris no chance.

The visitors equalised on 48 minutes. Daryl Doolan cut in from the right before setting up Gavin Taylor and he fired home from 12 yards.

However, any hopes of a draw for Harlow disappeared as Joel Barnett scored twice on 59 and 69 minutes for the Dockers.

A long ball over the top set up Barnett who took one touch before lobbing Harris from 20 yards.

Ten minutes later he tapped in his second after meeting a cross from the right.

The scoring was rounded off by Andrew Gibb who broke from the right before firing home an unstoppable shot on 82 minutes.

Anstead is hopeful that ex-Arsenal striker Isaiah Rankin will join and help the club stave off relegation. "He has offered to join us. He is a great player," he added.

Rankin was due to appear in a Capital League match for Harlow Town reserves last night (Wednesday).

HARLOW TN: Harris, Christian, Clemo, Pelley, Thomas, Cleaver, Doolan (Akinawo 69), Tambeson, Taylor (Edwards 80), Taylor-Forbes, Simpson (Mason 80). Subs not used: Adegbite, Abraham.

Top haul for Stort Valley anglers

Angling

EIGHTEEN Stort Valley Angling Society members almost matched a previous record haul when they fished at the River Medway in Kent. The total weight of 100lbs 5ozs was just slightly down on last year's effort.

Mick Westby, chairman of the Harlow club, claimed top spot with just under 17lb of mainly roach.

Billy Beehan (12lb 6oz) was second, just 8ozs ahead of Steve Turnbull (11lb 14oz).

Kevin Shaw and Beehan won the Pairs KO Cup and youngster Ross Deadman took the Singles' trophy.

Meanwhile, Bob Groom, Derek Dampney, Bill Beehan, Steve Turnbull and Peter Cotterell all won their respective leagues.

Teen battles back from two brain ops

They play in the Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League.

On that day Gavin hit two goals in a man-of-the-match display. "I tore them apart," he beamed.

It's a far cry from five years ago when the former Stewards School pupil was first diagnosed with a tumour, which left him paralysed down the left side.

He initially stayed at London's Great Ormond Hospital but underwent surgery at the National Hospital for Neurology and Neurosurgery.

He also suffered from agoraphobia – a condition brought on by post-operative trauma – and had to sleep downstairs at his parents' Harlow home.

Then just when he thought he was over his medical problems, his life was struck by disaster last year when doctors found another brain tumour.

This was removed at the National Hospital for Neurology and Neurosurgery in October 2008.

Gavin, whose paralysis has eased considerably, now hopes he can simply concentrate on his football – and play for England! "It seems like in the last three of four months my body has turned the switch back on. I just want to play now. I'm a fox in the box," he said.

Dad Terry is tremendously proud of the way his son has battled through his life-threatening condition. "He has done really well. We are very proud of him," he said.

Earlier this year, Arsenal fan Gavin was invited to the Gunners training ground where he met all the players, who posed for photographs with him and signed autographs. This gave him a huge lift as he recovered from neurosurgery.

Gavin now has to have brain scans every six months.

Beyond England and the Euros, Gavin is looking towards the Paralympics in 2012. "I would love to represent Great Britain at the London Paralympics," he added.

Huckle to spice up Indian Games

JAMES Huckle has completed a phenomenal year as he continues to enhance his reputation as one of Great Britain's great hope for gold at the 2010 Commonwealth Games in India.

The 19-year-old marksman, from Old Harlow, has claimed six gold medals this year at various events.

These include the Youth Olympic Festival in Sydney, Australia, and two golds in an international competition featuring world class shooters in Amsterdam, Holland.

Former Mark Hall School student Huckle, of Old Road, has represented Great Britain more than 10 times at senior level. He said: "Getting to the London Olympics is a long-term aim but you take things year by year and I want to get to India next year."

The 15th Commonwealth Games, to be held in Delhi in mid-October, are expected to be the biggest to date, with a population of 15 million in the Indian capital.

As well as working for his parents' company which designs labels for aircraft, Huckle, puts a lot of time into his training at the United Glass Rifle Club in London Road.

"I train 45 hours a week, following a training program that splits each aspect of my technique into multiple segments that I work on individually," he explained.

"This can mean doing drills and exercises that hone individual skills that come together to produce a good performance. I go to the gym four to five days a week, working on basic strength and stamina."

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Aside from the Commonwealth Games, Huckle will compete in the European Air Gun Championships in Norway in March and the World Championships in Germany in August in what will be a busy 2010 for the youngster.

Huckle will leave no stone unturned in his preparation. "I am soon hoping to have help from a performance analyst who can monitor me through bio-feedback when I shoot," he said.

"This means studying everything from my heart rate, to the amount of adrenalin pumping around my body to see how it affects my performance."

Huckle's six-gold haul this year included first place in the Senior English Prone Championships (50m) and Senior British Three Positions Championship (50m) at Bisley in Sussex.

The three shooting positions are laying down, kneeling down and standing.

The Harlow ace also gained a gold medal in an international shooting competition in Hanover, Germany. This was in the 10m air rifle section, where he set a new British U-21 record for his total score in the final.

He fired 593 successful shots out of 600 and of the eight finalists he finished top with 104.2 points out of 109.

You can bet on kickboxer Gamble in Essex title bout

A KICKBOXER is now gearing up for his first title bout after winning his debut fight as a professional.

Ricky Gamble (27), of Brockles Mead, Harlow, picked up a KO victory in front of a packed house at the Circus Tavern in Purfleet, Essex.

He was set to fight over three two-minute rounds but wasted no time in defeating his opponent.

He will now take on an as yet unnamed opponent in an Essex area title bout at the Circus Tavern in March when he will try and lift his first belt.

Gamble has had several amateur bouts, losing just once to a split decision.

Kick-boxing

He took up the sport four years ago.

Gamble is taught by Henry Woolhead at the Kaisho Kickboxing Club in North Weald.

A club spokesman said: "We are very proud of him. We think he's got a great chance of winning his first title belt."

Woolhead has taught martial arts in the Harlow and North Weald areas for more than 35 years.

He previously taught karate at Brays Grove School, Burnt Mill School and at the Latton Bush Centre in Harlow, before opening the North Weald club and branching out into kickboxing 20 years ago.

Caesar can rule in stayers' race

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday November 27).

HARLOW Greyhound Stadium's feature event this Friday night is the top grade stayers' race at 10pm where recent open race winner HARLOW CAESAR looks to hold all the aces.

This exciting youngster has improved with every run since arriving in this country and may eventually become top class.

From an ideal trap one berth he should be very hard to beat.

SWIFT DAPHNE rarely runs a bad race and can claim second.

TROTTERS LA TINA confirmed the promise shown in her trials with a decisive win in A7 grade and judging by that performance will be able to take an upgrade in her stride.

Her next task is in the last race this Friday where she can use her strong finish to good effect.

Other strong fancies on the card are the Kim Marlow trained greyhounds DAINTY SWIFT (8.30pm) and DAINTY BENNY (9.45pm).

Selections:

7.30pm Kilmagner; 7.45pm Benwoods Babe; 8pm Buglys Dazzler; 8.15pm Marfur Daley; 8.30pm Dainty Swift; 8.45pm Lady Shambally; 9pm Sveta Moon; 9.15pm No Joke Ronan; 9.30pm Bonkers Billy; 9.45pm Dainty Benny; 10pm Harlow Caesar; 10.15pm Trotters La Tina.

Tricky Dicky equals darts' top checkout

Darts

DICKY Foster (Servo Link) helped himself to darts' highest checkout of 170 in his side's 7-1 trouncing of Moot House.

White Admiral's 7-1 triumph over Harlow Hawks keeps them joint top of the Harlow & District Darts League with Link.

Damian Green (Moot House Arrows) shot out on 103 in Arrows' 7-1 win against previous leaders Tye Green Foxes. Foxes slipped to 7th spot.

Tye Green Whites' 7-1 success against The Cru lifted them up to 6th place, having been rock bottom after the first three matches.

United Glass came back to earn a 4-4 draw at Golden Swift after being 3-1 down.

Young Pretenders had a 7-1 home win against CC Colts. Colts took the last game to avoid a whitewash.

Elsewhere, Stow Snooker lost 3-5 to Staple Tye Colts.

Colts are third in the league, eight points behind joint leaders Admiral and Link.

Promotion bid hit

Old Southendians 3, Harlow 0

East Men's Hockey League, div four south east

PROMOTION-chasing Harlow suffered another setback with defeat at Old Southendians on Saturday.

With James Smith and Kirk unavailable, Ben Light and Lee Gorringe came into the line-up.

Harlow looked out of sorts from the whistle and besides one trademark run and shot from Chris Shearman-Slack had no meaningful chances and struggled to keep possession.

Old Southendians stuck twice in the first half.

Harlow improved after the break but still lacked a killer ball to find a way back into the game.

Midway through the second half the hosts added a third from a short corner.

Harlow skipper Joe Symonds said: "It was our worst performance of the year."

HARLOW: Johnson, Castle, Plumridge, Jones, Symonds (c), Krzoska, Shearman Slack, Light, Gorringe, Ottley, Chandler.

FIGHT BACK: Jason Mason, far right, and Gavin Taylor in action against Leyton (HSP0612542)

Hawks fight back for draw

RELEGATION-threatened Hawks scrambled a point with virtually the last kick of the game against new-look Leyton, writes ALAN SCOTT.

Harlow Town FC were 2-1 down deep in injury-time and had been reduced to 10 men only minutes earlier on Saturday after midfielder Evong Tambeson reacted to a challenge from Leyton substitute Tarus Ogboru.

But then substitute Ashley Taylor-Forbes pushed a dangerous ball into the box which Leyton defender Steve Sheehan could only stab into his own net as he attempted to clear.

Leyton lost virtually their whole first team squad when Craig Edwards quit as manager three weeks ago.

They were under the cosh for most of the first half but the hosts – without unavailable new signing ex-Arsenal player Isaiah Rankin –

Harlow Tn 2, Leyton 2

Ryman League, division one north could not break the deadlock.

Daniel Francis cleared an early effort off the line from Julian Edwards, who was skipper in the absence of Michael Pelley. He was named as a substitute as he arrived late because of work.

Leyton keeper Elliot Justham saved from Oliver Cleaver before bravely saving at the feet of Gavin Taylor who was clean through on 35 minutes.

Justham continued to excel and superbly blocked from Taylor after a great move involving Daryl Doolan and Edwards as the first half finished goalless.

Harlow started the second half well and Charlie Simpson's powerful 12-yard strike hit the left post early on.

But the hosts were stung by two goals in 60 seconds.

On 61 minutes, Fabian Brown headed in from a Francis free-kick and then the latter finished well from just outside the box after dreadful Hawks defending.

Doolan was unlucky not to get a goal on his 22nd birthday when Justham brilliantly tipped his amazing 40-yard effort over the bar.

Anstead sent on Ashley Taylor-Forbes on 69 minutes and he made a huge difference.

When Doolan crossed into the box on 76 minutes, Taylor-Forbes poked in from virtually on the goaline to halve the deficit.

Hawks' frustration grew and when Tambeson reacted to a late foul from Leyton sub Tarus Ogboru, he was shown a straight red. Ogboru escaped with a yellow card for the challenge.

But Sheehan's own goal rescued a point.

"It was two points dropped. But we hit the post twice. We are unbeaten in three now," said Hawks boss Anthony Anstead.

HARLOW TN: Harris, Clemo, Adegbite (Christian 54), Cleaver, Thomas, Tambeson (sent off 90), Doolan (Abraham 79), Mason, Taylor, Edwards (Taylor-Forbes 69), Simpson. Subs not used: Lambert, Pelley. Att: 163.

Anstead fumes at ref after red card

HAWKS boss Anthony Anstead was furious that the referee did not send off Leyton sub Tarus Ogboru after what he claimed was a Vinnie Jones-style 'tackle' on Evong Tambeson's personal tackle!

Harlow Town midfielder Tambeson was sent off in injury-time after reacting to allegedly being grabbed by Ogboru.

Anstead felt Tambeson should have remained on the pitch. He said: "I was angry as the referee sent off the wrong player. Their player grabbed him [Evong] by the nuts. I told him he should have sent him [the Leyton player off]."

Anstead was thankful to super sub Ashley Taylor-Forbes, who halved the deficit before supplying the cross which Leyton defender Steve Sheehan stabbed into his own net to make it 2-2.

"He [Taylor-Forbes] is a great player. He played with a lot of confidence. He has staked a claim."

He revealed he did

VICTIM? Hawks midfielder Evong Tambeson saw red not start with Taylor-Forbes, on loan from Bishop's Stortford, as he did not want to change a winning side after the 3-2 win at Redbridge.

But Anstead was still desperately disappointed with his side's inability to pick up maximum points.

He said: "The [Leyton] second goal was weak. We had enough chances to have won the game by half-time. We have seen a number of squandered chances. Their keeper made a great save. They got two quick goals and their second goal was very disappointing for me."

"For our two goals one was an own goal and the other was a scrambled goal."

Dagenham 22, Harlow 3

Essex Intermediate Cup, 1st rnd

A BAD result was suffered by Harlow Rugby Club as a weakened Rams side lost at Dagenham in the first round of the Essex Intermediate Cup.

The Rams had around 10 players missing including skipper Scott Romaine, director of rugby and scrum-half Lee Harron (rib injury) and lock Darren Hawkins (ankle injury).

However, they were facing a side that play a division below them in the RFU London & South East pyramid.

Like Rams in division two north east, Dagenham are also struggling in division three north east, currently lying second from bottom.

The Rams, whose line-up included a new locks pairing of Terry Blackwell and Martin Cunningham, suffered from having players who do not train and play together on a regular basis.

The visitors were also unable to provide quick ball for their backs.

Harlow went ahead in the first five minutes with a penalty by James McFerran.

This advantage should have been increased shortly after. A good backs move set up winger Will Grimley to go over the line but he crucially lost possession when trying to ground the ball.

The hosts went ahead on 29 minutes after strong pressure resulted in number eight James Roberts crashing over for an unconverted try.

McFerran narrowly missed a penalty shortly after.

On the stroke of half-time, scrum-half Kieran Clancy set up Roberts and he beat two attempted tackles for an unconverted try as Dagenham led 10-3 at the break.

The second half was similar to the first as Dagenham took their few chances and Harlow did not.

The hosts went 15-3 ahead on 50 minutes after winning possession from a line-out. Their fly-half, Lewis Steven, darted through from 20 yards in the process beating three tackles to score an unconverted try.

Five minutes later Dagenham lock Tom Waller suffered a serious knee injury.

He was taken by ambulance to hospital. There was a 10-minute delay before the game was switched to an adjacent pitch.

Shortly before the end, Ben Nelson powered over for a try after exchanging passes with Roberts. Steven kicked the conversion.

HARLOW: Mackie, Grimley, L. Bowering, Stradling, Hockley, McFerran (O'Brien 53), Woodington (Fitzpatrick 68), Branch (Lane 56), Davies, Prindiville, Blackwell, Cunningham, Clark (Hayden 68), M. Bowering, Eynon.

Fatal accident delays athlete

A FATAL accident at a level crossing in Cheshunt delayed athlete Amelia Barrett who was competing in the Southern Inter-Counties Cross Country Championships.

She arrived at the North London venue just 20 minutes before the start.

The teenager completed the hilly 3km course in 47th place (12 mins 30 secs).

Amelia was representing Essex who won the race.

● ADRIAN Fell ran a personal best time of 40 mins 18 secs in the Chelmsford 10km race.

He finished eight seconds behind fellow Harlow Running Club member Jamie Jephcott (40:10).

Pressure grows on Hawks supremo after one win in last 15 league games

ANTHONY Anstead is still Harlow Town's manager – but the Sword of Damocles hangs over the troubled 30-year-old rookie boss, writes DAVID RIMMER.

The club's chief executive Carol Bothwell said yesterday (Wednesday) that he is manager for the moment but will be speaking to him within the next week about Hawks' sorry position.

Since Harlow won their opening league match of the season against Great Wakering Rovers they have picked up one victory in their last 15 matches.

After Tuesday's defeat 4-1 at Tilbury, they still lie at the bottom of the Ryman division one north table and even without the 10-point deduction they would still prop up the League.

Mrs Bothwell said: "I will be having a chat with Anthony later this week or early next week. Last night [at Tilbury] was disappointing after the wins [in the Isthmian League Cup and Essex Senior Cup]."

She added: "I have got to listen to fans as well. They are paying money. If we keep losing it does not take a genius to work out that something has to give."

"He's going to have to produce results quickly. We cannot carry on losing."

Mrs Bothwell has not set a time limit on making a decision on Anstead's future.

But it does not take a clairvoyant to work out that unless Harlow pick up a win at Concord Rangers this Saturday or at home against Northwood next Tuesday, the manager is on very thin ice.

At the moment Harlow have only one point (after the 10-point deduction) and need a miracle to beat the drop.

From the remaining 26 matches they need at least 39 to have a decent chance of survival. That was Mrs Bothwell's aim at the start of the season – but it looks increasingly likely that Harlow will be in the Essex Senior League next year.

"It does not look good at the moment. If it's not going to change something has to give," she warned.

FIGHTING BACK: Gavin Brooke, right, with Arsenal's Holland international Robin van Persie (s)

England beckons heroic teen after TWO brain tumour ops

A COURAGEOUS young footballer from Harlow who has had two separate brain tumours removed and was left paralysed down one side has a new goal – after being called up for the England Disability team.

Gavin Brooke (19) made headlines around the world when he underwent his second brain tumour op in four years last November – and listened to his iPod throughout as the surgery was so dangerous he had to stay awake.

But Gavin has battled back and his recuperation was complete when he was called up for an England trial match at Lilleshall in Buckinghamshire this weekend.

He hopes to make the step up to the England team which will compete in the European Championships next year.

Forward Gavin, of Holyfield, was called up by England Disability team manager Lyndon Lynch, the ex-Bishop's Stortford FC striker. Lynch ran the rule over Gavin when he played for his team, Frontiers.
